

Disclosure of Music Therapist's Approach to Music Therapy Treatment

As your child's music therapist, it is my responsibility and goal to reach your child in the most effective way and implement the most effective approach of music therapy for maximum therapeutic treatment for your child. As a music therapist, I implement a behavioral and improvisational approach to music therapy.

I have read and agree to the following approaches of music therapy that will be implemented with my child in music therapy sessions at Helping Hand Center's Children's Outpatient Clinic.
